

Mr. Daniel Kupka
Policy Analyst
OECD, France

Mr. Daniel Kupka is a Policy Analyst at OECD's Science and Technology Policy Division. He provides support to the Working Party on Innovation and Technology (TIP) and the Committee for Scientific and Technological Policy (CSTP).

His recent areas of work include the role of demand-side innovation policies, commercialisation of knowledge, service innovation policies, industry-science links and the transition to a green growth path. In addition, he is member of the International Energy Agency's Expert Group on "Accelerating Energy Technology Innovation".